5. (Confidential - GLC) Received a call from David Martin, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff. Martin has just returned from his trip with General Walt covering the Middle East and Southeast Asia for the purpose of looking into illicit drug traffic entering the United States. Martin said General Walt will probably be testifying before the Subcommittee in mid-August or September. He said in this connection and in connection with their report on their trip he would like to have access to the confidential Agency reports on the drug traffic which have been mentioned in Jack Anderson's column. Martin said he would respect the confidential classification of the documents and if they were drawn on in the Committee's report the report would be submitted to us for final approval before it is published to be sure that nothing of a classified nature is inadvertently revealed. I told Martin I thought I knew which reports he was referring to and said I would look into the matter. He said they would be happy to have General Walt or Senator Eastland send us a letter requesting access to the documents but I told him I did not think this was necessary.

I asked Martin if he had run across any of Alfred McCoy's activities during his trip. He said they had and added that several of the embassies in the Southeast Asia area were extremely irritated by what they consider to be McCoy's irresponsible use of unverified information in the interest of promoting his forthcoming book. I mentioned the exchange of letters between Representative Aspin and the Director on the subject of McCoy's information and gave him citations to the insertions of these items in the Congressional Record. Martin commented they would be happy to assist in any way they could in refuting McCoy's claims as far as they concern the Agency.

6. (Unclassified - GLC) Called Mr. William Flanagan, Special Assistant to Senator Adlai E. Stevenson III (D., Ill.), in his office in Chicago. I told Flanagan I was responding to his letter of 26 June 1972 to the Director concerning [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Responding to the questions raised in his letter I told Flanagan that [REDACTED] had worked for the Agency for only one month between January and February of 1970 and had decided his continued employment with us was inconsistent with his active involvement in a number of political and social issues on which he had strong feelings and therefore he had decided to resign. I made it clear to Flanagan that [REDACTED] resignation was totally voluntary on his part and without any coercion on our part. I said that while he had received a top secret clearance for his employment here that naturally the clearance terminated with his resignation. Flanagan said my call was much more helpful than a written response would be and said nothing further was necessary from us.
